The Rev. Dr. Robert E. Olson, who along with his wife, Eleanor, have been in church since their wedding in 1943, will retire as pastor of the Columbus, Ohio, Epiphany-St. Nicholas Ukrainian Catholic Church. Rev. Olson, who will turn 84 on April 7, has said he will work in retirement as a pastor of various parishes in Ohio and also serve as a consultant for the diocese. Epiphany-St. Nicholas, founded in 1897, was the first Ukrainian Catholic church built in the United States. The couple have been actively involved in the church's ministry. The Olson family made their home at St. Nicholas Rectory and in the adjacent parish rectory for almost four decades. In 2005, after the death of the Olsons' son, the family moved into the rectory that had been the home of a priest, Father Mychal Kibaj, for many years. The Olsons' daughter, Theresa Ann Mecsak, helped raise funds to put the family back into the rectory after Father Kibaj's death. Rev. Olson served at St. Nicholas for 15 years as a priest and pastor before the family was asked to consider a transfer to another parish. With the transfer, there would have been an opening at St. Nicholas for the archbishop to appoint a new pastor. So, in the summer of 2006, Rev. Olson turned the call to another parish. He has been pastor of St. Michael's Parish in Bowling Green since April 2006. "I'm a pastor of parishes, not a parish within a parish," he said. "The parish is the heart of a diocese. It's the heart of a people who share the faith, share the mission of Christ. It's the heart of a diocese." After 42 years of ministry with the Ukrainians, Rev
